UBC TCS PILOT

The objective of the pilot project for both BCCAT and UBC was to facilitate the creation of greater pathways and transparency for transfer students, including those BC students that take courses elsewhere, and transfer students outside of BC who want to pursue studies in BC.

The project goal for UBC was to provide their prospective students and their advisors a transfer credit search tool for courses completed in BC, Canada, & internationally. The use of BCCAT's Transfer Credit System provided a cost-effective and system-wide platform that expanded and centralized the workflow for the management of a post-secondary institutions transfer agreements by aggregating and importing agreements from their various internal transfer credit tables or sources. Some highlights regarding the impact of the pilot are included in the table below.

BC Transfer System

- For UBC Vancouver, the pilot allowed for an additional 8,622 agreements with BC Transfer System members to be published online, for a total of 24,653 agreements now available on the BC Transfer Guide. For UBC Okanagan, the pilot allowed for an additional 7,303 agreements with BC Transfer System members to be published online, for a total of 16,912 agreements now available on the BC Transfer Guide
