FIND YOUR

PATH

BCTransferGuide.ca is the place to learn about your transfer options. You can check out courses that transfer from one institution to another and map out your own transfer pathway through the BC post-secondary system!

What is transfer?

A student "transfers" when they move from one institution to another and their new institution gives them credit for previously completed education.

Why transfer?

Every year, thousands of BC students move between BC post-secondary institutions for reasons like these:

- start out living closer to home
- save money and time
- smaller class sizes
- improve grades / improve access to post-secondary
